Translating Immuno-oncology Lab Research into Cancer Immunotherapy: A 45-year Journey
Paul Sondel, MD, PhD
Reed and Carolee Walker Professor in Pediatric Oncology
UW School of Medicine and Public Health

Dr. Sondel joined the UW faculty in 1980 and is Professor in the Departments of Pediatrics, Human Oncology, and Genetics. He heads the Division of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology in the Department of Pediatrics, leads the Carbone Cancer Center's Program in Immunology/Immunotherapy, and directs a scientific laboratory devoted to translational and clinical cancer research. Dr. Sondel is an engaging research mentor, educator, and clinician role model for medical students in the Shapiro Summer Research Program, the MD/PhD program, and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute fellowship, as well as for undergraduate, doctoral, and postdoctoral trainees. Dr. Sondel earned his MD from Harvard Medical School and his PhD in genetics from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He is the recipient of the 2014 Dean's Award for Excellence in Medical Student Research Mentorship.
